

DEMOCRATIC KEYNOTE SPEECH IS PREPARED

Tentative Copy to Be Submitted to President by Ex-Gov. Glynn of New York.

Work on putting into words the issues on which the administration plans to conduct the presidential campaign has begun in earnest. Former Gov. Glynn of New York, who as temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention will deliver the keynote address, has tentatively prepared his speech, and it will be submitted to President Wilson in the near future. The general outlines of the democratic platform have also been agreed upon. It is understood the platform will follow the general lines of that adopted by the Missouri democrats, although several planks will be added. The Missouri platform was submitted to administration leaders before its adoption. Peace and prosperity will be the main features of the democratic platform and also of Mr. Glynn's address. The legislative record of the Wilson administration, particularly the currency bill, and claims that the administration has been of assistance to business and labor will also be included. The Monroe doctrine, the expedition to the President in addresses, will be reiterated and stress laid on efforts of the government to foster trade and good relations with South and Central America.

Temporary Roll Completed.

Speaker Champ Clark will be invited to be the permanent chairman of the democratic national convention, which meets at St. Louis, June 14. The temporary roll of the convention has been practically completed by Acting Secretary Hollister of the national committee. Up to today 929 of the 1,992 delegates had been chosen—every one pledged to vote for President Wilson's renomination. Not since 1900 has a democratic national convention met with such complete harmony of action promised.

So far only fourteen seats are contested, six each from Hawaii and Porto Rico, where no primary elections are held, and two from the first district of New York, where a faction headed by Ralph Pulitzer is contesting seating of "organization" opponents. The national committee will meet June 12 at St. Louis to consider contests.

CANCELS RESTRAINING ORDER.

Court Dismisses Strike Ruling Against Old Dominion Employees.

After a hearing late yesterday afternoon on the motion to dissolve the restraining order in the case of the Washington and Old Dominion railway against striking employees of the company, Justice McCoy of the District Supreme Court announced that in view of the answers filed by the defendants disclaiming any act of violence or any intention to commit any injury to the company or employees of the road, he would grant the motion continuing the restraining order, without prejudice to the company to renew its application for an injunction. The company entered orders voluntarily discontinuing the proceedings as to a number of defendants who have returned to work. The action, Justice McCoy said, only applies to the portion of the road in the District of Columbia. Attorney Crandall Mackey represented the defendants and Attorney Wilton J. Lambert appeared for the railway company.

NOISE AND ENTHUSIASM TO MARK CONVENTION

Republicans of Several States to Also Use Music to Boost Their Favorite Sons.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Indications are that the republican national convention of 1916 will be one of the noisiest and most exciting in the history of the party.

With sixteen candidates for president in the field and with the result in doubt until the last ballot has been taken, there is likely to be an unusual amount of noise and enthusiasm. Fred W. Upham, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, has informed the delegates that he has made to bring more than 100 bands and fifty glee and marching clubs to Chicago during convention week. Harry C. Gage, of Columbus, Ohio, telegraphed that he would bring a glee club of sixty voices to Chicago to boost the candidacy of Theodore E. Burton of Ohio.

Indiana to Send Bands.

Word comes from Indiana that every large city in the state is planning to send either a band or a marching club to the convention for Charles W. Fairbanks. Similar reports were received from other states which have candidates.

The demand for convention tickets continues to increase. Season tickets are quoted at $25 each. Sergeant-at-Arms William F. Stone began the appointment of his 1,900 assistants, which include 1,500 assistant sergeant-at-arms, 100 doorkeepers, 100 ushers, 100 messengers and 100 pages. He has received 5,000 applications for the positions, which will be filled from the recommendations made by members of the republican national committee.

Contesting Delegates Fifty-Four.

Contests over the six delegates at large from Alabama and one from the ninth congressional district of the same state were filed with Secretary Reynolds of the republican national committee today. This brings the total number of contested delegates up to fifty-four. The national committee will begin hearing the contests June 1. Will E. Hayes, chairman of the Indiana republican state central committee, arrived today to open headquarters for the presidential candidacy of Charles W. Fairbanks.

"HURT" BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Paris Temps Criticizes Recent Speech at National Press Club.

PARIS, May 23.—The Temps in an editorial, lengthily reviews President Wilson's remarks before the Washington Press Club recently. It criticizes the language used, and maintains that the contents allies have not been carried beyond the limits of ordinary responsibility, but are exercising a most sacred responsibility in the maintenance of right and duty. It adds: "The nations struggling for independence, dignity and existence feel hurt when their reason is brought into question."

CONVENTION OPENED BY MASTER BAKERS

J. A. Le Clerc Tells How Good Bread Can Be Made, Using Less Wheat.

That good and palatable bread is perfectly possible from combinations of wheat with other flours and that, in time of need, the utilization of such combinations could save the United States 100,000,000 bushels of wheat yearly was the statement of Dr. J. A. Le Clerc of the bureau of chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, in a paper read at the opening session this morning at the Raleigh of the first annual convention of the Potomac States Master Bakers' Association.

Dr. Le Clerc spoke on "The Use of Breadstuffs Other Than Wheat Flour in the Making of Bread," and pursued a theme which he deems important both from the standpoint of conservation and preparation of the various European wartime regulations regarding the percentage of wheat flour in the bread of the warring countries and discussed from the standpoint of food chemistry the values of the various substitutes in use abroad and possible here. These include the potato, cassava, banana, oats, barley, buckwheat, rice, peas, beans, cottonseed meal and peanuts.

Many Foodstuffs Available.

"The tendency of the times is toward the usage of our forefathers at breadstuffs," he told the assembled delegates from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District. "Nutritious and wholesome bread can be made from almost any foodstuffs when properly proportioned with good wheat flour."

The speaker finished by saying that he was not recommending that bakers put any of these combinations on the market as specialties, but was calling to their attention the prominent part they might be able to play in conserving the resource of the nation in a future crisis. Dr. Le Clerc's paper received generous applause and he was asked number of questions by interested master bakers and flour merchants.

Washington expresses what the nation thinks of itself, according to Conrad H. Syme, District corporation counsel, who welcomed the convention to this city, and he prophesied that within the next quarter-century the city will be more and more adequately symbolized by the greatness of the United States.

"There is no question that Washington stands second in the affections of 99 out of every 100 men, women and children in this country," he said, "and welcoming conventions is likewise asking the participants into the doors of their second home."

No Rise in Cost of Bread.

Rev. E. H. Swann pronounced the invocation and to Mr. Syme's remarks Charles E. Meade of Baltimore responded in appropriate words. He also emphasized the fact that while nearly every ingredient of bread has risen in price, and that economy on the part of the bakers, based on close application and skill, is the reason.

"We must prove to our only competitors, the housewives, that we can make a better loaf of bread than they can," said A. H. Nolde of Richmond, in his presidential report. Mr. Nolde told of difficulties in the flour and sugar markets with which the bakers have had to contend within the last year or two; recommended the intelligent use of newspaper space to increase the amount of the bread consumed that is made by bakers, which, he stated, is now less than 50 per cent; and declared that pure food and sanitary laws generally have been of benefit to the baking trade.

Sight-seeing trips and a theater party tonight will occupy the remainder of the day, and the second session tomorrow morning will convene promptly at 9:30 o'clock.

PROVIDES AERIAL FLEET FOR U. S. COAST GUARD

Bill Introduced in Congress Proposes Establishment of Ten Stations.

To provide an aerial fleet for the coast guard, as a natural development of coast guard activities in conserving life and property at sea and as a measure of preparedness for war as a coast defense and patrol, a bill has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Russell of Louisiana, a member of the committee on commerce, which has consideration of affairs pertaining to the coast guard.

The measure follows the general purposes of the bill introduced in the House by Representative Andrew J. Montague, former Governor of Virginia. In detail, however, it applies the suggestion for a concrete development of an air fleet for coast guard activities suggested by Assistant Secretary Byron R. Newton of the Treasury Department, in charge of the coast guard, endorsing the project in a report to the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce, to which the Montague bill was referred. Representative Montague has reintroduced his bill in the House, so that it is now identical with the Senate bill.

The bill proposes the establishment of ten aerial stations in various locations on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf of Mexico coasts, and the purchase of ten great lakes. Each station is to be equipped with two aeroplanes. This is the equipment suggested as a beginning.

Will Be Placed Where Most Needed.

The stations are to be located, by selection of the Secretary of the Treasury, at such points where statistics of marine disasters indicate them to be most desirable. Ten third lieutenants and five third lieutenants of engineers are added to the personnel of the coast guard, to provide for a supplemental force for aerial service.

Owing to the hazard in the use of aircraft, the bill provides that officers and men employed in aviation duties for the coast guard shall be allowed the same increase in compensation and allowances as now provided by law for officers and men of the navy detailed for such duties.

A position of instructor in aviation at a salary of $4,000 a year, and another as assistant instructor at $3,000 a year, are provided. The Secretaries of War and Navy are authorized to receive officers and men of the coast guard for instruction in aviation at their aviation schools.
